 Less than $100 $100-$500 $500-$1000 More
 8. A vet visit for a rabbit, rat, chinchilla, hedgehog, guinea pig or even a hamster could cost as much as a domesticated animal (dog/cat) and that is just for an exam and doesn't include medication or treatment. When a small pet becomes ill, there is not time to "wait and see", treatment is needed right away. Are you willing and able to pay for emergency treatment which maybe $100-$500 or more Yes No
 9. Will your pet be in the presence of children frequently? Yes No What ages? _____
 10. Are you aware that rabbits can do any of the following: shed, chew or dig carpet/baseboards, use the bathroom outside the litter box, bite and scratch? Are you aware that pocket pets such as hamsters, rats, mice, hedgehogs or chinchillas can become ill, bite or scratch or otherwise cause harm to people or other pets. For what potential problems do you feel unprepared? Yes No
Rabbits, guinea pigs, & chinchillas require unlimited amounts of loose grass hay. This hay can be messy and people in your house could have allergies. Because hay is important to the digestive health and also helps keep the molars trimmed, you must be willing to deal with the mess of the hay and the potential allergies. Does anyone in your house have any known allergies to animals or asthma, Yes No, If yes, to what? _____
- Is there anything else you'd like to discuss about adopting this pet? Yes No If yes, please explain _____

Some pets require regular professional grooming. Vet bills, pet sitting, and vacation boarding fees may add considerable expense to your family budget. Are you prepared to accept the personal and financial needs of owning a pet and accept that Longview Animal Care & Adoption Center makes no guarantees as to the health or temperament of this pet?
 Yes No
