De-Escalation Techniques: Limiting the Use of Force in Public Interaction #1849

During some interactions with the public, de-escalation techniques may be needed. Proper training is helpful to prepare officers since situations such as these may occur from time to time.

This course will cover:

- ICAT Modules for De-Escalation, including the Critical Decision-Making Model (TCOLE Mandated)
- Understanding and Integrating De-Escalation Techniques
- Interacting with people in crisis
- Communications in tactical situations
- Understanding situational awareness and how it relates to de-escalation techniques
- Practical application of certain de-escalation techniques
